

INDUSTRY ACCOLADES
BEST SHELTER

"The Security Industry Association saw a great, diverse field of products in the 2016 New Product Showcase at ISC West, and nowhere was that more true than in access control devices. And, so it is a true distinction that STANLEY Security emerged with the best product in Access Control Devices Peripherals."

"The focus on locking the classroom door is appropriate. A report commissioned by Connecticut after the Sandy Hook tragedy concluded that an active shooter has never breached a locked classroom door. Such events typically end too fast for killers to bother trying to bypass secure doors."

— WALL STREET JOURNAL

"Using Technology to Protect From Mass Shootings"

"It's the first few minutes upon a shooter's entry when the most damage is done. A strong door supported by quality lockdown products—such as electronic and electromechanical locks, all of which we have to offer—buys teachers and their students the valuable minutes they need until first responders arrive on the scene."
